"Contrary to the sociologists, relatively few of us 'choose a career'. First thing we know, we find ourselves up to our ears in one, with which we would rather have only a nodding acquaintance. In spite of that many of us manage to do well and achieve a reasonable degree of satisfaction. There is said to be more than 25,000 ways to make a living!"

This bit of information came to us by way of Sunshine Magazine and we thought it worth passing on.

Often times we have thought there must be an easier way to make a living than operating a Dress Shop. But, on the other hand, we are convinced there could be no other exciting way. Helping someone get ready to take a trip is almost the next best thing to taking one yourself. Why, practically every week we get someone off on a trip, many to foreign countries, the dresses, the coat, the suit, the lingerie will be worn in places we have never seen and some never even heard of. Helping a bride select a trousseau is certainly fun... and in no time at all, in fact right now, we are beginning to get the college wardrobes assembled.

Yes, it is fun... and we are inviting you to join us. Those new transition cotton-polyester dresses are here in all the dark muted plaids. Smart as a whip, easy to wear, no wrinkles, washable... just the ticket for a trip. $16.00 up. The knits that are coming in are absolutely beautiful! (We stashed away a couple that we could not resist.) Raimondi, Crestmoor, Carlye, Jon McCauley, are a few of the elegant ones. And you should see Jonathan Logan ORIGINALS Knit costume suits; for the Junior size, only $40.00, and you have both a coat and a dress!

35 Boys on Second 4-H Forest Tour

Thirty-five 4-H boys from 20 counties in Arkansas will participate in the Second 4-H Forestry Educational Tour, July 26 through July 28, according to Lea Smiley, Extension forester. The tour will be conducted for the purpose of developing a better understanding of the forest industries in our state and to show the boys the careers available in the forest industry.

First stop on the tour will be DeGray Dam on the Caddo River north of Arkadelphia. Next tour moves to Gurdon for a look at the Ark-La Gas Company Plywood Plant. An evening program at Hope will feature a presentation on careers in forestry plus functions of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association.

The second day will include a look at forest research under way at the University of Arkansas Southwest Branch Experiment Station near Hope. The group will then tour a Potlatch Forest Industry sawmill at Prescott, the Ouachita-Nevada Treating Plant, and the Arkansas Forestry Commission Nursery near Bluff City.

In Camden the group will visit one of the Civil War Battlefields and the International Paper Company mill. Careers in wildlife, mechanical harvesting of pulpwood, and paper in the making will be discussed at the evening program in Camden.

Sponsors of the tour are the University of Arkansas Agricultural Extension Service, Potlatch, Dierks, Georgia Pacific, Timberland Chain Saw, Harold Hendrix, pulpwood dealer of Hope and Prescott, along with 13 other pulpwood dealers associated with Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association.

Perfume-Making Is Sweet Business, as Hal Boyle Details

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The business of making American men smell nicer is skyrocketing. So is the business of making American women smell nicer.

"Only 10 years ago most men thought colognes were sissy, but they don't any more," said Alvin Welzel, a director of the Toilet Goods Association and vice president of the House of Houbigant.

"Men spent $120 million on fragrances in 1966, up 20 per cent from the year before. Women spent $440 million, which also represents a 20 per cent increase."

The masculine trend toward heavier and stronger scents leads many experts in the industry to predict that the U.S. male soon will go all the way and start wearing perfume, as men did in past civilizations.

"It's coming," said Welzel, a slender, intellectual-looking man of 51 who switched to cosmetics merchandising after studying genetics and breeding in college.

"In many homes scents are already interchangeable, and husbands and wives use the same fragrances and deodorants."

To Welzel this is only a matter of history repeating itself. His company, founded in France in 1775, lists among its past clients not only Queen Victoria, Marie Antoinette and the Empress Eugenie, but also Napoleon Bonaparte and French author Guy de Maupassant.

Napoleon was so enamored of the sweet smell of success that he used 54 bottles of cologne a month and carried them with him to his battlefields. One would think that on a windy day the odor would have alerted the enemy to his presence.

Welzel is full of odd tidbits of the lore of perfumes which, he says, originated as tributes to the gods, then were restricted to kings and nobles. Only in recent times have they reached the

Wednesday, July 26, 1967

from a score to a hundred or more ingredients, and some women make a hobby of compounding their own perfumes.

"Anybody can make a perfume," said Welzel, whose trained nose can differentiate more than 500 odors. "But it is quite another matter to create one that will become classic."

Welzel feels perfume leadership has passed from France to the United States.

"The average American woman now spends $8 a year for perfume, which is more than French women can afford," he said. "Definitely, American women smell nicer."

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

The 1967 fund-raising Crusade of the American Cancer Society is going on now in Hope. During this time, the Society is asking the public to take three important actions: If you do not know cancer's warning signals, learn them. If you have not already had an annual health checkup, have one. Support the Society's program of research, education and service. The first two are for your protection now; the third for possible protection in the future. Funds for the Society's program are essential in the fight against cancer.

Another street question: "Why didn't the city plan more than eight streets for paving when there are so many streets all over town that need improvement, including the one which I live on?" Signed: Mrs. B. Dear Mrs. B.: Originally the planning commission and the city directors planned a total of twelve streets for the artery system. The matter was then turned over to John Hawkins Engineering firm for cost estimates. When these figures were presented it was more than what the city directors and planning commission felt that the city could spend. Costs had to be reduced to $765,000 and four streets had to be eliminated, leaving eight.

Life saving lessons will be given at the Hope Municipal Pool, the remainder of this week and next week, with Junior Life Saving at 9 o'clock and Senior at 10 a.m.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. THOMAS C. McCLAIN

The Central Baptist Church Chapel in Magnolia was the scene of a wedding Saturday, July 1st at half past three o'clock, when Judith Patricia Boswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Boswell of Russellville, formerly of Hope, became the bride of Lt. Thomas Clark McClain, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McClain of Fordyce.

The Rev. Cline Ellis of Fordyce officiated the ceremony before an altar marked with a kneeling bench flanked by baskets of majestic daisies and seven branched candelabra holding burning tapers. Jim Works, organist presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Karen Randolph, who sang "Lord Most Holy". Lighting the candles preceding the ceremony were Glen Dinley and Roy McClain.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of silk organza, silhouetted by a flowing chapel train. The gown was framed along the Empire bodice and sleeves with heavy beanie lace. A crown of French illusion and Venice lace created the veil which was designed especially for the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and ivy entwined with satin ribbon.

Miss Bonnie Boswell of Russellville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sonya Berk of New York City and Miss Brenda Forlines of South Boston, Va. All wore identical floor length gowns of blue linen with Empire lines framed by antique lace and velvet ribbon. Their headpieces were of blue linen and tulle and each carried colonial bouquets of white daisies and blue ribbon.

Little Miss Linda McClain, niece of the groom was flower girl. She wore a white eyelet over blue dress and carried a basket of flower petals and wore a crown of daisies on her head.

Glen McClain, brother of the groom, served as best man. In dual roles of groomsman and usher were Glen Finley and Roy McClain.

Mrs. Boswell chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of Aquamarine silk trimmed in Belgium lace and a matching jacket. Her accessories were in beige and she wore a corsage of pink tea roses.

The groom's mother wore a suit of yellow silk with matching accessories and a pink tea rose corsage.

A Reception hosted by the bride's parents was held in the church Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. Forming the receiving line were parents of the bride, the bride and groom, maid of honor, bridesmaids and flower girl. Miss Colleen Hill of North Little Rock presided at the Guest Book. The bride's table was covered with floor length white satin overlaid with white net and a centerpiece of Shasta daisies and fern and burning tapers completed the table decorations. The three-tiered cake iced in white was topped by a rose crown. Mints, nuts and mock champagne punch was served to the guests. Aunts of the bride, Mrs. Denville Ross, Mrs. A. H. Boswell, Jr., Mrs. Melvin Wynn and Mrs. Zelma Berk presided at the table. Distributing rice bags were nieces of the bride, Lawana Ross and Janelle Wynn.

The bride's going away dress was designed by her cousin, Miss Sonya Berk of New York City. She pinned a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder. Following a trip to New Orleans the couple will be at home in Pensacola, Fla., where the groom is stationed as a student in the U.S. Marine Corps Flight School and the bride will teach in Pensacola Public Schools.

Cards Whip Cubs, Keep Loop Lead

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. Louis Cardinals, once again perched atop the National League, are also bidding fair to lead the league in nonchalance.
The Cards opened a critical three-game series with the remarkable Chicago Cubs Tuesday night with both teams tied for the league lead. A brilliant relay play from center field to the plate transformed Ted Savage from the potential Chicago tying run to the final out in a 4-3 St. Louis victory.
And how did the Cardinals react? Calmly, to say the least.
"Maxie (shortstop Dai Maxvill) told me to throw so I threw," said Julian Javier, who relayed the ball in from second, with an authentic shrug. "I wasn't surprised."
"I didn't think it was such a great play," yawned catcher Tim McCarver, who made the tag at the plate after Ernie Banks had already scored on the play. "I mean the ball was right there so what's the big deal?"

In other less nerve-racking National League action Tuesday night, Philadelphia pounded Houston 12-7, San Francisco edged New York 5-4, Atlanta nudged Cincinnati 1-0 and Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 3-1.
In the American League, Kansas City won a doubleheader from Washington 5-1 and 6-5, California beat Boston 6-4, Minnesota and New York played to a 1-1 tie before the game was washed out after nine innings, Chicago took two from Cleveland 3-1 and 6-5 in 16 innings and Detroit at Baltimore was rained out.

The Cubs, though understandably depressed at blowing a chance to savor first place without any company, maintained they made the right play.
"We got a few this year in the same situation," third base coach Pete Reiser insisted. "We've been daring the infielders and the outfielders all year. We just didn't make it this time."
Banks had singled in the inning and Savage was hit by a pitch before Card reliever Ron Willis went to 3-2 on Spangler. The runners were off with the pitch and Banks made it home easily before Javier nailed Savage.

Rich Allen carried Philadelphia's big stick, pounding out four hits—including his 13th homer—driving in four runs, scoring three and stealing two bases. Jim Bunning got his 10th victory.
Jesus Alou's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth won the game for San Francisco after the Mets had tied the game in the top of the inning on John Sullivan's two-run single and Larry Stahl's bouncer to the mound, which scored a run.
Pat Jarvis hurled a two-hitter, leading Atlanta past Cincinnati into third place. The Braves scored in the fifth when Denis Menke tripled and came on on Woody Woodward's single.

Bob Bailey drove in a pair of runs with a single and a sacrifice fly and Bill Singer allowed Pittsburgh seven hits in the Dodgers' triumph.

Newman in Old Form, Beats Boston

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
BOSTON (AP) — Fred Newman's spectacular pitching comeback provided a big tonic to the pennant hopes of the California Angels today — and Manager Bill Rigney thought it might even serve as a hair tonic, too.
"It would make the manager's hair turn brown again," the white-haired Rigney quipped when asked what a return to Newman's old form would mean to his club's flag chances.
The big right-hander, who was ineffective all last season and underwent major surgery on his shoulder in October, made his first American League appearance of 1967 Tuesday night. He held the Boston Red Sox scoreless for the last four innings gain credit for a 6-4 California victory.
It was the seventh in a row for the streaking Angels, boosting them to within a half-game of the second-place Red Sox, who had a 10-game winning streak shattered by the loss.
Newman, who won a total of 27 games for weak-hitting Angel teams in 1964 and 1965, suffered an injury to his pitching shoulder in spring training a year ago.
Doctors decided Newman had tendon trouble, and in October a piece of tendon was cut out of the shoulder.
This year he started the comeback trial in the minors, pitching for Angels' farm clubs in El Paso and Seattle before coming back to the Angels just a week ago.

PGA Champ Heads for Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — National PGA champ Don January will head a host of pro golfers taking part in today's pro-amateur prelude to Thursday's tee-off for the $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic at Hazletine golf course.
Other big name pros after the $20,000 first-place money include last year's winner Bobby Nichols, Don Cherry, Gene Littler, Julius Boros, Doug Sanders, Ken Venturi and Don Sammens.
January edged Massengale 69 to 71 in winning the PGA crown Monday at Denver's 7,436-yard Columbine course.
January, who won the 1961 classic, should be in good form for Hazletine's opening range of 7,200 yards. The longest holes on the par-72 course will be No. 11 at 603, and No. 3 at 600.

Ken Berry Wins for White Sox

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ken Berry took the apple twice. The third time he polished it — real good.
"I took the apple the other two times," said Berry in explaining his failure to deliver in two game-winning situations in the second game of the Chicago White Sox' doubleheader with Cleveland Tuesday night.
"So I had to do something about it," Berry continued.
He did — smashing a two-run homer in the bottom of the 16th inning to give the White Sox a 6-5 victory. A two-run homer — this time by J.C. Martin in the ninth inning — gave the Sox a 3-1 victory in the opener.
The twin victories moved the American League-leading Sox two full games ahead of runner-up Boston, which lost 6-4 to third-place California.

In other AL action, Kansas City swept Washington 5-1 and 6-5 and the Baltimore-New York game was rained out after nine innings with the score tied 1-1. The Detroit-Baltimore game was washed out.
Atlanta edged Cincinnati 1-0, San Francisco shaded New York 5-4, St. Louis outlasted Chicago 4-3, Philadelphia outslugged Houston 12-7 and Los Angeles topped Pittsburgh 3-1.
Martin, pressed into action in the eighth inning of the first game when catcher Gerry McNertney injured a finger, also hit a two-run homer in the ninth as did pinch hitter Smokey Burgess. The blast by Burgess in the eighth inning tied it at 4-4.
Cleveland had taken a 5-4 lead in the top of the 16th on doubles by Vern Fuller and pinch hitter Duke Sims.
Ken Boyer, recently acquired from the New York Mets, opened the bottom of the 16th with a single. Then, with one out, Berry, who had forced a runner at the plate with the bases loaded in the 11th and grounded into another forceout with two on in the 13th, made apple sauce of a Steve Bailey pitch.
Martin's game-winning homer came off Sam McDowell, who had held the White Sox to three hits and had a 1-0 lead going into the eighth.
Chicago tied it when Don Buford walked, Walt Williams beat out a bunt and, with two out, Pete Ward singled.
California struck for three runs with two out in the first inning. Don Mincher doubled home Jerry Adair and scored on Jimmie Hall's double. Hall came home on Bob Rodgers' single.
The Angels clinched it with a pair in the third. Mincher singled and Hall doubled, and they scored on Rick Reichardt's single. Hall also singled home a run in the fourth.
Boston scored single runs in four different innings, but the Angel defense came up with several sparkling plays to keep the Red Sox from having a big inning.
Mike Hershberger's three-run inside-the-park homer in the first inning sparked Kansas City to its first-game victory.
In the nightcap, Ken Harrelson, who homered in the first game, gave the Athletics a 5-2 lead with a two-run single in the fifth, and Joe Nosske drove in what proved to be the winning run with a single in the sixth.
Frank Howard drove in a pair of runs for Washington in the second game with his 25th homer.
Harmon Killebrew hit his 29th homer in the Minnesota first inning and Jim Kaat made the run stand up until Mickey Mantle homered with two out in the ninth.
After Kaat retired Bill Robinson to end the inning, the rain started and about a half hour later the game was called. It will be replayed as part of a two-night doubleheader Aug. 18. Individual statistics will go into the record book.

On a Hunch He Threw Ball Home

By CHARLIE BAROUH
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Everybody said third base coach Pete Reiser made the right call when he sent Ted Savage home in the ninth inning.
"I think they'd do the same thing over again," said Bobby Tolan, whose throw from the outfield to relay man Julian Javier helped nail Savage at the plate and preserved the Cardinals' 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday night.
"It looks bad now but it was a good play," Tolan said.
The Cubs went into the ninth on the short end of a 4-2 score. Ernie Banks singled to lead off the inning and Savage, pinch-hitting for Clarence Jones, was hit by a pitch. Ron Willis came in and got the first two outs.
Then Al Spangler came up with the count at 3-and-2 and lined a solid single to center. Banks scored from second and Savage steamed homeward.
Tolan fired to Javier and the second basemen turned and threw to Tim McCarver at the plate.
"Maxie told me to throw home, so I threw," Javier shrugged, as if the game hadn't meant sole possession of first place to the Cardinals. "When I turned I saw Savage turning third, so I knew I had a lot of time. I wasn't surprised when he tried to go home."
Neither was McCarver, who couldn't understand what all the fuss was about. "I didn't think it was such a great play. I mean the ball was right there so what's the big deal?"
And Pete Reiser wasn't about to have second thoughts on the call.
"We've gotten a few this year in the same situation when the throw has gotten away," Pete said. "We've been daring the infielders and the outfielders all year. We just didn't make it this time."
Manager Leo Durocher of the Cubs agreed. "I would have done the same thing Reiser did. The throw didn't have to be there. It could have been bad."

Micki said that everyone seems to think—before they meet her, that is—that she's a man and then they wonder how she became an Air Force officer.

"It's a relatively new program for women—and it's great," said Micki. "I wouldn't be happy as a schoolteacher or a secretary."
"I went into officers' training after I graduated from Michigan in 1966. Now I'm doing administrative work with the ROTC detachment at Michigan. I'm on active duty and I'll be in for four years."
"After work I'm able to put in four or five hours of training under my old coach at Michigan, Dick Kimball.
"The Air Force is all for it. They're eager to sponsor competition. As I said, they have a marvelous program and I recommend it highly to girls looking for an interesting career in interesting surroundings."

Locals Prep for All-Star District Play

By RALPH ROUTON
Star Sports Writer
All signs point to go for the Hope Little League All-Stars as they continue to prepare for the district finals, to be held this week end at Monticello.
The locals held their last practice before the tournaments last night under the lights at K Park. They leave Thursday for Monticello and meet the winner of the Monticello-McGehee game that night at 7:30 p.m.
Hope should be one of the favorites in this tourney, as we are the defending champs. With a better ball club all around than the state runnersup from Hope last year, bright things are forecast for this squad. Last night's practice was a good one, with a team effort and attitude that isn't shown on many All-Star teams.
With four strong and proven pitchers in Mike Pinegar, David Huddleston, Gary Barham, and Benny O'Neal, the team probably could get by with weak hitting. But, according to Hope coach, Dub Pinegar, "this is the strongest hitting team I've seen in Little League." The figures prove that this is quite true.

With seven of the fourteen boys sporting batting averages of .600 or better, runs could be the local's forte at Monticello. With this type of hitting complementing the pitching and fielding, weak spots are very hard to find. But these boys will have to play up to their potential, as their competition certainly will not be pushovers. Win or lose, the locals still will be remembered as part of the strongest Hope Little League in many, many years.

Namath Has New Trouble With Knees

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Namath is having knee trouble again. This time it's his left instead of the right for which he underwent surgery last December.

The $400,000 star quarterback for the New York Jets of the American Football League strained a tendon below his left kneecap in the Jets' training camp at Peekskill, N.Y., Tuesday.

Dr. James Nicholas, the Jets' physician, taped up the knee and the former Alabama All-America resumed practice.

"It does not appear to be serious, but we'll have to wait a day or two to be sure," said Dr. James Nicholas, the Jets' physician.

Coach Weeb Ewbank probably is keeping his fingers crossed. If Namath is hobbled, the Jets' hopes of winning the AFL championship will be jolted.

In 1966, his second as a pro QB, the 202-pound Namath turned in the league's best performance by completing 232 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards, including 19 TD heaves. He had been confident of having his best year ever in 1967. Now, for a few days at least, his future appears uncertain.

The Namath incident was one of the highlights Tuesday as the pros in both leagues, the AFL and NFL, continued to drill for exhibition games.

Leslie Duncan and Kenny Graham, two of the three San Diego Charger players, fined $1,000 each by Coach Sid Gillman for leaving camp Monday, returned to the base at Escondido, Calif., Tuesday and were re-in-stated.

Stars and Stripes Hits Sports Beat

By JERRY LISKA
WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) —

The tempo picks up in the fifth Pan-American Games Wednesday with a strong Stars and Stripes beat.

A bag of six more gold medals for the United States looms in the first session of swimming finals as the third day of overall Pan-Am action brings yachting and fencing into the sprawling hemispheric athletic show.

With 16 sports now under way, only boxing, rowing, judo and the real big tent event—track and field—remain in the wings.

The track competition, which like swimming has the U.S. squad stamped an overwhelming favorite, starts Saturday and runs through the following Saturday.

Uncle Sam's youthful and powerful swimming array was primed for a likely record-smashing surge towards one-two sweeps in four races and the women's three-meter diving.

The United States had Pan-Am record-breaking qualifiers Tuesday for tonight's 100-meter men's free style in Zach Zorn, Buena Park, Calif., and the 200-meter women's free style in 16-year-old Pam Kruse, Pompano Beach, Fla.

Travelers Overwhelmed by El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso's Sun Kings scored five runs in the first inning Tuesday night and went on to a 13-3 victory over the Arkansas Travelers.

Catcher Tom Egan was the big gun in El Paso's attack with two home runs and nine runs batted in. He hit a three-run homer in the first and another with two on in the fifth. Egan plated two more with a single in the sixth and knocked in his ninth run with an eighth inning single.

The Travs got two runs on a seventh-inning homer by Biff Bracy. Arkansas starter Danny Jaster absorbed his seventh defeat. Pat Rogan, who scattered eight hits, got the victory.

B-52s Make High-Level N. Viet Raid

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Waves of high-altitude B52 bombers made one of their rare invasions of North Vietnam today for a saturation raid on gun emplacements and dug-in bunkers of the North Vietnamese 341st Division just above the 17th Parallel frontier.

The U.S. Command said the big bombers came in waves two hours apart and saturated an area almost two miles long and two miles wide with a lethal rain of bombs.

The number of bombers was not disclosed but the size of the target area indicated a far greater than average strike. The big bombers probably unloaded hundreds of thousands of pounds of bombs on the North Vietnamese emplacements.

The target area was just north of the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam and about 14 miles inland - the area where the 341st Division is posted and from which heavy Communist guns have for weeks fired deadly barrages on U.S. Marines dug in about seven miles to the south.

Although ground action was scattered and inconclusive, there were these other developments in the war:

1. The U.S. Command announced that the Forrestal, America's third-largest aircraft carrier, has joined the 7th Fleet operating against North Vietnam from the Tonkin Gulf. The Australian destroyer Hobart also rejoined the fleet bombarding North Vietnam.
2. Two American jets were downed over North Vietnam Tuesday. They brought announced U.S. combat plane losses over North Vietnam to 617. They were a Navy A4 Skyhawk jet and a two-place Air Force F4C Phantom. The three fliers are missing in action.
3. South Vietnamese headquarters said two more Communist mines ripped up the road and blew up a small concrete bridge on Highway 4, the main road from Saigon into the Mekong Delta and long regarded as one of the nation's safest roads. Guerrillas have set more than nine mines in the road in the past week and more have been discovered unexploded.
4. Viet Cong guerrillas masquerading as government troops struck a lethal blow close to Saigon for the second time in 24 hours. Wearing South Vietnamese army uniforms, the guerrillas seized a Red Cross ambulance and surprised a militia post and police station six miles northwest of the capital, killed 11 policemen and militiamen, and wounded seven others.
5. The B52 raids were the first to venture over North Vietnam since April 24, although on July 13 the big bombers made three raids on the northern half of the demilitarized zone.

COOL WELCOME (from page one)

ans were pleased at the warm welcome De Gaulle had received in Quebec and that Canadians "attach the greatest importance to our friendship with the French people."

Pearson's statement failed to satisfy some aroused Canadians.

The opposition leader, Conservative John Diefenbaker, called it "a diplomatic concoction of generalities which fall entirely to meet the situation." He had urged a stern reprimand and said De Gaulle should be told to make no more public speeches in Canada.

Warren Allmand, one of Pearson's Liberal party members of Parliament, said De Gaulle should be told to leave Canada at once.

Newspapers across Canada ran angry editorials labeling De Gaulle's remarks an insult, a deliberate affront, interference in Canadian affairs, inflammatory advice to young hotheads, encouragement of subversion, an attempt to divide the country and abuse of hospitality. Two French papers in Montreal defended the general.

Some Paris papers joined in the attacks. The Independent, influential Le Monde asked: "How can one not be concerned at this brutal intervention in the internal affairs of a state?" The leftist Combat demanded: "By what right has he become judge, arbiter and instigator of Quebec's destiny?"

Seemingly unperturbed by the storm, De Gaulle spent Tuesday at Expo 67. It was French Day at the world's fair and he received cheers and only scattered boos.

Henry Clay's early profession was that of a lawyer.

He then gave background information on the University of Arkansas study of Hope streets, this information being turned over to the planning commission which gave much time and study, resulting in a master plan which the city board of directors adopted. This plan is now being turned over to the people for their approval in a forthcoming election.

City Manager Medders told of the seven - year study of Hope streets, the priority system used in selecting the streets for the artery plan, and how the bond program fitted into the cost of $765,000 which would be derived from a 5-mill property tax, a $5 annual city auto tax, and pledges from parking meter money and revenues from the water and light plant.

In no way will the street program jeopardize any functions of the municipal government nor curtail any of its services to the people, and it is a program we need, Mr. Medders pointed out. The recent purchase of new street equipment will help us repair and maintain our secondary streets to a much higher degree while the new arteries are being built.

Bill Routon, a member of the original planning commission, reviewed the eight streets in the

How's for Catching Mice? One of Tricks Due at the Cat Show

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The alley cats, fat cats and running cats have been sorted. The jewel-studded tiara is being polished. Either George, Pepper, Rasputin or Omar Khayyam will become America's top tabby tonight.

But before he, or she, gets the crown as the All-American glamour kitty of 1967, there will be such strong points of competition as mouse chasing, paper bag investigation, climbing and ball rolling.

Four finalists, chosen from national entries, are in the running for the title now held by Snoball, a frisky all-white feline owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Primoff of Mt. Rainier, Md.

The four are George, Pepper, Rasputin and Omar Khayyam. George is a one-year-old female owned by Mary Jane Richardson of Statesville, N.C. Pepper is a "mostly alley" cat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Al Frisbie, of Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Frisbie thinks Pepper's personality will be his strong point. A year-and-a-half-old Siamese, Rasputin, is called a "party boy" by his owner, Dorothy Towle of Braintree, Mass. She says he likes to dress up whenever she throws a little soiree.

Hunting is Omar Khayyam's feature most likely to impress the judges. His owner, Mrs. Harold Geary of North East, Pa., says he once tackled a rabbit as big as himself.

Final judging takes place today.

Aden Is Paralyzed by Strike

ADEN (AP) — A general strike paralyzed all commercial life in Aden today. No one moved except British soldiers on security duties.

British military authorities
once again put the sweltering, and troubled colony under State
Red, their highest emergency classification.

The Aden Trades Union Congress ordered the 24-hour strike as a protest against alleged "inhuman behavior" by British troops. The strike's total effectiveness showed that the rival nationalist movements—the NLF—National Liberation Front; and FLOSY—Front for the Liberation of South Yemen —were cooperating for a change.

Another Arab civilian was killed in the Crater district Sunday night for failing to halt when ordered by British troops.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

THE CASE FOR POLYGAMY
Dear Helen: I've been reading about how many still practice polygamy in the United States
—and instead of being shocked,
I think maybe they've got something there.

We're rapidly becoming over-supplied with unattached females, what with wars taking down the supply of males, and woman's longer life span, not to speak of more girl babies being born than boys. Also, women work these days, so there'd be no problem of support.

Why not let every man who wants to have a least one additional wife? That would keep the boys busy on the home front, out of bars and away from philanthropy. (Note from H: Might you mean "philander-y?") Wanna bet we'll get back to legal double marriages within 50 years? —HOPEFUL BIGA-

MIST

Dear H.B.: No bets.
But let me point out something you overlook. One in every four men is no match for his wife these days . . . And as gals get more aggressive, husbands tend to cower behind the TV set.
So what would they want with double trouble — plus twice the yaking.—H.

After we laughed about that,
I told him I didn't start loving him again until we were well into the second year of marriage, and then only faintly. But, "Boy, how I pretended!" said he, "Me too!"

You see, we had grown up together and everyone expected us to be a permanent couple. We liked each other so well we worked overtime trying to hide the fact that love wasn't there.
It worked . . . so well that respect and admiration turned into the deepest and most lasting affection. Until our truth session we didn't suspect that at first we were both pretending to shield our mate.

What I'm trying to say is:
marriages can thrive without overpowering romantic love, for love grows gradually out of friendship and esteem—and, most of all, being able to talk together.
If young people would look for the lasting qualities instead of chills down the spine, we'd see a lot YEAR

Dear H.E.Y.: Right!
You can get shivers up your back from a brass band or touching a break in the iron cord, but only good, solid communication puts the realingle into marriage.

May your next 25 years be filled with 50 years of happiness!—H.

Dear Helen: My buddy and I are stationed in Texas. He met a girl I'll call Molly and made time with her. He didn't tell her he was married. The subject never came up, he said, so he didn't lie. She promised to be faithful to him while he went home on leave.

When he got back to the base,
he found her apartment for rent,
and the landlady told him she'd got married two days before.
What kind of a girl would do my buddy like that? —DISILLU-SIONED

Dear Dis: A SMART one!
May his wife also wise up!—H ness but they were obviously short in spades and West could be sure that he would be safe if he hid two spades at that time.

Durable J.E. Hoover—He Built FBI

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI was a pretty crummy outfit when he took it over, full of political pets and incompetents. He quickly built it into an American institution. It's been that way since.

In three years he had cleaned out the misfits and put it on its feet. This has been a great satisfaction to J. Edgar Hoover but peace of mind doesn't always accompany satisfaction.

He has been picked and pecked at almost from the beginning. Some times he has reacted with heat. Much of the criticism has been ludicrous.

Hoover had been a lawyer with the Department of Justice seven years when he was chosen at 29 to head the Bureau of Investigation, which wasn't called the Federal Bureau of Investigation until 1935.

He is 72 now and today is the 50th anniversary of the start of his government service. He has headed the FBI 43 years. In the government, retirement is mandatory at 70 but in his case President Johnson waived that requirement.

He set the course the FBI has followed from the day the then-attorney general, Harlan Fiske Stone, offered him the job. He said he would accept only on these conditions:

He would run the agency. Politicians couldn't tell him what to do or whom to hire. Appointments would be by merit and so would advancement. He staffed the FBI with young lawyers and accountants as agents whose number has risen from 441 to 6,625.

Before they are accepted they must survive an investigation of their conduct, common sense and loyalty. They have to go through a 14-week training course.

The year after he took the job Hoover laid down a rule which still is in effect: an agent must by his conduct eliminate criticism. Even in their clothing the agents are inconspicuous.

Hoover put the FBI ahead of most of the nation's police departments — probably all of them — in 1926 when he warned his agents never to use threats or inducements to get confessions. You never hear of FBI agents using third-degree.

It has been a rather stylish tradition among some liberals to criticize Hoover as a dictator. There is no doubt he runs the FBI with an iron hand. But anyone who objects to that can try to answer this question:

If you were running an agency like the FBI, and didn't invoke rigid discipline, how would you keep the politicians' paws off it and keep your agents free of outside discipline and inside corruption?

What has been overlooked or forgotten is that Hoover has never sought to extend his power but, on the other hand, opposed its extension.

He opposed President Franklin D. Roosevelt's idea that the FBI should take over all federal investigations.

In the 1930s, when the country was shaken by spreading gangsterism and killings and demands were being made to federalize the nation's police, he opposed that, too.

He has insisted from the beginning that local problems of law and order are the jurisdiction of the local authorities, not the FBI.

In Roosevelt's day there were reports that liberals in his administration were turning sour on Hoover, fearing he had too much authority. At the same time Ku Klux Klan leaders were trying to get him out.

He was criticized for the way he made it. This has been an endless story. It just takes new variations from time to time.

He has even been criticized for almost never holding a news conference, and being very hard for newsmen to see individually, although he is not required to hold such conferences and whether he does or not is strictly his privilege.

Hoover summed up his bureau's problems in 1956 when he said of civil rights cases: the FBI is unpopular if it obtains facts which result in prosecutions and it is unpopular if it doesn't.

He told his agents: "Our sole purpose is to do our job objectively." It is hard to think of anything more impressive in government service than the FBI record, ranging from its success with gangsters and Nazi saboteurs to cutting the American Communist party to pieces by infiltrating it.
